

DECEMBER 2008

A preview of new products

We are currently working on a new product called the MP88. It is a midi control pedal that is designed specifically to control stage lighting. It is fully designed and in our prototype process, we should have a functional unit for beta testing in December. The MP88 should be out for sale in 2009.

We released the SS32 last month. We have had great interest in other possible functions of the SS32. The SS32 will support speaker level signals up to 35 Watts. When the SS32 was designed we did not plan on this application at the time, after speaking with reps inquiring about the possibilities. We can verify the SS32 as a speaker switch as well as switching line level or headphone level signals.

Rolls has added MMR to its 2009 marketing strategies for print. We will have 2 spots in the magazine beginning with the 2009 MMR NAMM issue and run adds thru out 2009.
